

News

Information and updates relating to Community Led Planning (CLP)

[New resource for rural communities to help improve opportunities for older people \[09.05.12\]](#)

A new Topic Sheet introducing issues concerning older people living in rural communities has been developed for use alongside ACRE's Community Led Planning toolkit.

[New resource for communities interested in renewable energy \[30.04.12\]](#)

A new Topic Sheet introducing renewable energy has been developed for use alongside the Community Led Planning toolkit.

[New resource for communities interested in reducing crime and anti-social behaviour \[30.04.12\]](#)

A new Topic Sheet introducing community safety has been developed for use alongside ACRE's Community Led Planning toolkit.

[How can localised planning work for communities? \[27.04.12\]](#)

ACRE reflects on the localism agenda and the opportunities this presents for involving communities in planning

[New resource for communities wanting to prepare for emergencies \[16.04.12\]](#)

A new Topic Sheet introducing emergency planning has been developed for use alongside the Community Led Planning toolkit

[Community Led Planning: the gold standard for localism \[21.02.12\]](#)

New toolkit from ACRE – communities can continue to shape their own future

[ACRE responds to Community Infrastructure Levy consultation \[09.01.12\]](#)

ACRE recommends that where communities are preparing to undertake a Community Led Plan or a Neighbourhood Plan, the relevant charging authority should encourage and support them to also consider where CIL receipts could be used to best effect to mitigate the impact of any development

[ACRE responds to Neighbourhood Planning Regulations consultation \[06.01.12\]](#)

ACRE's response highlighted the need for balance between over-prescription and flexibility within the Neighbourhood Planning process

[Neighbourhood Planning takes a step forward \[18.10.11\]](#)

ACRE welcomes the latest announcement from the Department for Communities and Local Government on taking forward Neighbourhood Planning which gives communities new powers to influence the future of their local area.

[Localism in practice: making the most of Community Led Planning \[21.07.11\]](#)

New guidance examines how local authorities are making the most of Community Led Planning to enable communities to plan for their future

[Knowing your place: heritage and Community Led Planning in the countryside \[22.06.11\]](#)

ACRE and English Heritage publish new resource to help Community Led Planning groups consider their local heritage

[Rural Coalition claims Community Led Planning can guarantee the future of rural communities \[18.08.10\]](#)

Local people, entrepreneurs, community groups and local councils have the ability to bring about positive change that will ensure a thriving future for the countryside

[Community Led Planning can help new local councils \[14.06.10\]](#)

Toolkit recommends newly created local councils undertake Community Led Plans

[LEAD – an overarching framework for Community Led Planning \[20.04.10\]](#)

ACRE and AMT have developed a new framework which illustrates, at the simplest level, the key steps that underpin any Community Led Plan

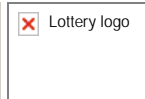

[Maximising the use of buildings in rural communities \[17.05.12\]](#)

A new Topic Sheet encouraging communities to consider all buildings as space for community use has been developed alongside the Community Led Planning toolkit

[New policy paper proves Community Led Planning works! \[26.10.09\]](#)

Evidence compiled by ACRE shows how Community Led Planning can address some of the most pressing issues facing local communities today

©2012 ACRE
Built on Cubik